

These courts were very dirty and no colour or lines on them before we started the work.

